

BUSY SENTENCE COURT

LARGEST NUMBER OF PRISONERS BEFORE COURT AT ONE TIME.

Three Sent to the Penitentiary and Others Receive Punishment as Meted out by the Court.

On last Saturday President Judge D. P. McPherson and Associate Judges E. P. Miller and H. B. Pearson handed down sentences to the prisoners who had plead guilty to the charges with which they were indicted.

Edward Noble plead guilty to the larceny of an automobile worth $500. The owner had picked him up and brought him to Gettysburg put him up at the hotel and the prisoner like the proverbial snake turned upon his benefactor by getting up early the next morning, stealing auto check from the owners pocket and going to the garage made away with the car. The Court remarking that he well deserved punishment sentenced him to the Penitentiary for not less than 18 months nor more than two years, a fine of $10 and the costs.

Charles Pugh and Robert Smith, colored, plead guilty to highway robbery. Assault with intent to kill, robbery and carrying concealed deadly weapon. The prisoners had held up Mr. Scott, a traveling salesman on Aug. 29, shot twice into his car, took $250 of money and the auto. Car was abandoned and recovered in Gettysburg and $150 of the money was obtained when men were arrested on Lincoln Highway near Cashtown next day. Both men stated they were 19 years of age. Pugh stated that he was born in Wilkes-Barre, lived in Philadelphia had gone to Columbia to work in mill. Smith lived near Baltimore and went to York and then to Columbia and went to work at the same place. After several days work they were discharged and started to walk to Pittsburgh. The car of Mr. Scott was stopped when they reached it, something wrong. Pugh blamed the entire robbery on Smith, who had suggested it, but admitted he owned the gun and did the firing. Smith's previous reputation had been good and the Court convinced that Pugh was lying on the comrade, sentenced Pugh on the robbery charge to not less than three years and not more than five years in the Penitentiary, for the larceny not less than 18 months and not over 2 years and for carrying deadly weapon one year. Smith was placed into the custody of the Huntingdon Reformatory.

Albert Davis, pleading guilty to stealing tires, and as first offense was given 2 months in jail, to return goods, pay a fine of $1 and the costs.

Earl Sheely and Lloyd Boose plead guilty to breaking and entering at night time and larceny of tires. The first named stated that a bootlegger coming from Westminster every Saturday into the Southern part of the county had sold him some stuff and while under the influence the deed had been done. The previous reputation of the boys had been excellent. No complaints had ever before been made against them. They later told Policeman Crabbes of Hanover where to get the tires and they were returned. The Court paroled the boys for two years to be of good behaviour and directed that each pay the costs and Sheely additionally pay a fine of $100.

Michael Tate was given 30 days in jail and costs for selling liquor. The defendant said he had bought some bad stuff and thought he would get his money out of it by selling it.

John Brown, colored, was also given 30 days in jail and costs for selling liquor. He had taken party to M. Tate when asked where he could get a drink and another time had sold a fellow a drink on the street.

Alfred Curran, Frank Todd, Charles Pearce, and Eddie Carroll, the latter 19 years of age and the other three 18 years of age plead guilty to breaking and entering in day time a house in Abbottstown. The boys had started from their home in New York and Long Island and when they reached Abbottstown went into the house to get something to eat and finding no one at home had ransacked the house, but took nothing except an old razor. The father of one of the boys appeared. The Court continued the case to Sept. 18, desiring to be informed if the boys were returned home who would be responsible for them and their behavior.

Nathan Watkins was given 30 days in jail for assault and battery. Walter Crouse on charge of felonious entry and larceny was sent to the School at Glen Mills.

McSPARRAN A WINNER

ACCORDING TO STATE DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN.

The Voter Believes there is Something Rotten at Harrisburg that must be Brought to Light.

Election of John A. McSparran, Democratic candidate for Governor, by a majority equal to at least half the normal Republican majority in the State was predicted a few days ago by Austin McCullough, chairman of the Democratic State Committee. McCullough's estimate was based on a thorough canvass of the Commonwealth and he declared that in many counties the revolt against the Republican machine is increasing rather than diminishing.

Several factors combine to encourage the Democratic campaign managers. Chief among these is the industrial unrest which has resulted in general dissatisfaction with the Republican National Administration. Whether right or wrong in his handling of the strike situation in Pennsylvania, the fact remains that President Harding is "in bad" with workers in the anthracite and bituminous coal fields and this condition is rapidly reacting to the advantage of Democratic candidates for State office and for seats in Congress.

Harding Blamed. In the coal fields both labor and capital are blaming the President for the prolonged strike. The operators feel that Mr. Harding has dealt with the industrial tie-up in kid-glove fashion and he is being openly criticized for his failure to take drastic action to end the struggle. Mine workers, on the other hand, just as emphatically declare that the President has played into the hands of the operators and that because of his supposed affiliations with his money interests he is lending his aid in the fight to destroy unionism.

The revolt against the national Administration is no less pronounced than that directed against the Republican regime in the State. Ever since the last session of the Legislature there has been a popular suspicion about the conduct of the public affairs in Harrisburg and the recent inquiry into the Treasury Department has convinced the average voter there is something rotten at the Capitol and that only a political turnover will throw the light where it is most needed.

Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for Governor, is not looked upon as the proper agency through which a clean-up might be expected. The Pike county forester is caught up in a jam of conflicting Republican interests, with one element insisting that he turn his back on the old organization. And among the organization leaders there is a clamor that Pinchot employ the soft pedal on his threatened "exposures" or suffer the penalty of being hamstrung if he is fortunate enough to be elected Governor.

Klu Klux Klan in York Co.

Garbed in awe-inspiring robes of white, surmounted with hoods, with a bright red cross on the breast of each, and amid a circle of brilliant torches, visible for miles around, the local members of the Invisible Kingdom, the Klu Klux Klan, initiated several score of candidates in the dark and mysterious inner recesses of Baumgardner's woods Friday evening, says the York Gazette and Daily. Immediately on the conclusion of the uncanny ceremonial, a flaming cross, the official benediction of the order, was ignited on a hillside near Villa Green, southeast of the city, where it blazed for hours as a silent testimonial to the mysterious power of the Klan.

The cross was examined and was found to be about 7 feet high and about 5 feet wide. It was made of iron, wrapped with cloth saturated with oil and tar, and on the cross bar was hung three large K's, signifying that the Ku-Klux had operated in the vicinity. The cross was placed in the ground and supported by four small wires. On the ground were many copies of the order's official newspaper, the Searchlight, printed at Atlanta, Georgia, placed at the cross doubtless to cause people to think the secret rites were conducted there.

BY THE LORD HARRY.

The exhibition Gifford Pinchot Republican candidate for Governor made of himself in Adams County is to be explained only on the theory that he had concluded that he was among hayseeds and rubes and must get down from Rooseveltian heights to a level with Rubes, with the natural result that he was far below the level of his hearers with his cheap vulgarity. Says he, "If you send me to Harrisburg to clean up the mess by the Lord Harry that's exactly what I'll do."

This attitude psychologically tells its own story. This exhibit, who calls himself a reformer and who debauched the citizenship of his State with $25,000 spent to get a nomination, is willing to strut and swear vulgarly with the idea of making others believe he is as common as he conceives a Rube to be and is simply a hypocritical fool.

He swears what he will do by the Lord Harry, which in other words is that he swears he will do exactly what he is permitted to do by the Lord Harry Baker. For Harry Baker is the representative of the old order now in the saddle, the Harry Baker who learned political tricks under the old master Penrose. Harry Baker who was made Republican State Chairman over Gifford Pinchot's show of a desire otherwise. Harry Baker, who is telling the need of a quarter of million dollars to run the campaign and who is pulling the strings while his monte bank turns this way or that. It is this Lord Harry Baker who will run things after election, who will give the orders as to the way Gifford Pinchot will dance if elected Governor. The people in voting should understand what they are doing. Pinchot admits that there is a mess at Harrisburg that needs cleaning up, that needs to have "let it in upon it." He would lead the people by giving over the cleaning up of the mess to the old order of things that made the mess and is responsible for it. And he swears that he will do exactly what he is permitted to do by the Lord Harry Baker. If he should attempt to do more his hands will be tied by Lord Harry Baker, just as they are now when the State Chairman was elected though Pinchot did not vote for him. The only way to clean up the mess at Harrisburg is to elect Lord Harry Baker but by electing McNamara Governor.

Democratic Campaign Book, 1922.

The hundreds and thirty-two pages of facts, figures and arguments make the Democratic Campaign Book for 1922 a valuable source of interesting and valuable information concerning the facts and "antitheses" of the Harding administration and the permanent achievements of the two preceding Democratic administrations. This Campaign Book will prove of indispensable usefulness not only to candidates, speakers and officials of the present campaign, but also to the present campaign. The statistical matter and all the data regarding taxation, the farm, governmental, legislative, judicial and other subjects are from authoritative sources. Many of the indictments of the present Republican administration are backed by a competence and reaction are cited in the book in the speeches of Republican officials and in the articles appearing in Republican newspapers.

All the issues of the present campaign are fully treated. The book will be a guide also to the understanding of the national campaign of 1924.

Individual copies of the Democratic Campaign Book will be supplied free of charge to National Committeemen and Committeewomen, State Chairmen, County Chairmen, Democratic candidates for the Senate and House of Representatives, listed Democratic speakers and to Democratic editors. The price to others and for extra copies will be ten cents the copy.

State Farm Bureau Federation.

Pennsylvania will be the forty-eighth state to form a state farm bureau federation and with the proper support of the counties may hope

It's toasted. This one extra process gives a delightful quality that can not be duplicated to do as effective work as any of them.

These federations have sold co-operatively wool, feed, seed, and many other commodities. The co-operative marketing of livestock has developed so rapidly in the last eighteen months that two-thirds of the stock now sold in Chicago is shipped by co-operators. Shipments to St. Paul, Kansas City, Detroit, and other big centers are coming from co-operative associations in increasing volume. The farmers thus handle their own livestock at the terminals at a substantial saving. The latest move is to supply farmers with feeder and stocker cattle through their own co-operative marketing associations.

The various state farm bureau federations have established grain, livestock, dairy, vegetable, and fruit marketing departments. The Pennsylvania Federation may not be able to launch full fledged into all of these activities but with a reasonable percentage of the counties in the state federated will be able to render valuable service to the farmers of the state along lines which are not now occupied by farmers activities.

Other state federations have relieved transportation troubles, obtained cars when farmers were in need, reduced freight charges, saved money through cooperative purchase of fertilizer and fertilizer ingredients, obtained and sold certified seed, secured better roads, improved farm mortgage conditions, secured legislation and better support of public institutions such as the agricultural college. Some of these state federations have more than 100,000 members.

The Farm Bureau Federation is not a political organization but a great service organization for the farmers, in one way serving their interests something like a Chamber of Commerce may serve the interests of the city business man. It is worth while to note that the constitutions of the American Farm Bureau Federation and the State Farm Bureau Federations provide that when its officers decide to run for political office they shall at once resign from office in the Farm Bureau. This keeps the organization a purely non-political organization which is a very wise provision.

A Cross of Fire on St. Ignatius.

A thrill ran through the mountaineers of Buchanan Valley the other night when a cross of fire flashed upon the pitch darkness of their Blue Ridge. It stood out dazzlingly against the inky sky, and could be seen for miles. Some were frightened at this portent. Many autos and "living roadsters," with and without lights, brought the farmer-mountaineers for a nearer view.

They found that Father W. W. Whalen, the pastor of the Old Jesuit Mission, had wired the cross on St. Ignatius' Church, which stands on a lofty hill. The priest said it was only a sparkling form of home brew, as the church has its own little electric generator.

Until recently Father Whalen had three anthracite strikers stopping with him, and to them must be given the credit for electrifying the cross. "It goes to prove," said the pastor, "that the miners can do so many things that one would hardly expect from them. They can put their hand to almost any job without their foot shuddering. I discovered my trio of mighty good carpenters, fearless steppie jacks, as much at home up in the air as in the pits, and they were splendid company, those men. I miss them, since they returned to the mines. My farmers and I wish them many happy returns."

ARENDTSTVILLE.

Some of our farmers have begun cutting off their corn and report a three-fourth crop. But they had a good wheat, rye, oats and hay crop so that they have no complaint in this line.

Will You Help the Democratic Party to Win This Campaign?

If so the most helpful thing you can do now is to contribute to the Democratic Educational Campaign Fund so that the Educational work of the Democratic National Committee can be carried out as planned.

The Democratic National Committee Needs Money and Needs It Now

For the purpose of getting the record of failure of this Republican Do-Nothing Congress and Do-Nothing Administration before the people, and to show them again the road to Democratic Prosperity, which they traveled for eight years of Democratic rule.

Send Your Contribution to the Gettysburg Compiler

The Democratic National Committee has arranged with the publisher of Gettysburg Compiler to receive and receipt for contributions. A duplicate receipt will be mailed from Democratic Headquarters.

Give What You Can Afford—Much or Little—But Give It Now

The Democratic Party has no privileged classes, no protected frontiers, no trusts or moneybunds to appeal to. It represents only the people, therefore it appeals only to them. This is a Democratic Year. Do your share to help win the Victory.

Democratic Prosperity vs. Republican Disaster

The estimated wealth of the United States when President Wilson went into office in 1913 was $185,000,000,000; it increased to $300,000,000,000 in eight years of Democratic rule—a gain of $115,000,000,000. The present estimated wealth of the United States is $225,000,000,000—a loss of $75,000,000,000 in fifteen months under Republican rule.

Since the Republican party was voted into power in November 1920, the American farmers alone have suffered a loss of near $30,000,000,000.

Some Republican Broken Promises

The Republicans promised the country PROSPERITY; they have given it ADVERSITY.

They promised to stimulate agriculture and business; they have given an industrial panic and destroyed our foreign markets. Foreign trade declined from $13,500,000,000 in 1920 to near $6,000,000,000 in 1922.

They promised to reduce taxes; they have shifted taxes of the multi-millionaire and profiteering class to the smaller taxpayers without lifting taxes or reducing them. Repeal of the Excess Profits tax relieved the Big Interests of paying $450,000,000 in taxes; reduction of the higher surtax relieved them of paying $61,500,000.

They promised to reduce the high cost of living; they have given a Profiteers tariff bill which increases the high cost of living, and makes the farmer pay $5 on everything he buys for each $1 of "protection" he gets.

They promised to reduce the expenses of the government; they have increased the expenses of running the various departments of the government (1923 budget), three years after the war $536,000,000 compared to 1915, three years before the war, with an estimated deficit of $500,000,000 in addition—or $1,000,000,000 increase.

Swine Breeders Associations.

Several groups of Pennsylvania farmers, members of the swine breeders' associations in Adams, Bedford, Bucks, Fayette, counties, have reason to boast of purchases recently made of eight pure bred boars to be used in swine breeding work in the communities represented. These hog men made a trip to Ohio prior to the Ohio State Fair and picked out the boars which they wished to buy, their choice including representatives of the Poland, China, Duroc, Jersey, Chester White and Berk-shire breeds. Seven of these boars, in competition at the Ohio State Fair, won premiums ranging from second to sixth. Three of the group have been received by the breeders to be shown at the National Swine Show where it is expected they will repeat their good record.

Farmers in Adams County who are members of a Swine Breeders' Association will see in this an instance of the conformity of opinion on the part of the judge and the breeder as to the type of animal desired in the economical production of pork. The farmers whose ability to select perform-
